

Fair Trade

Ready to explore the co-op?

Look for the foods pictured below while you are shopping. Circle any foods you find that have the fair trade symbol or the words “fair trade” on the package or sign. If you find one that isn’t pictured here, you can draw it yourself. Use the back page if you need more room.

Some foods we love come from far away and it’s not easy to know if the farmer who grew the food was paid fairly for their work. When you see the fair trade symbol on packages or “fair trade” on signs at the co-op, you know that the farmer got a fair deal. Fair trade farmers also work together to improve their communities.

Fair Trade

Co+op Explorers love fair trade bananas!

Some foods we love come from far away and it's not easy to know if the farmer who grew the food was paid fairly for their work. When you see the fair trade symbol on packages or signs at the co-op, you know that the farmer got a fair deal. Fair trade farmers also work together to improve their communities.

Fair Trade

Word Search

Find the words below, look horizontally, vertically and diagonally.

Bananas	Sugar	Food	People
Chocolate	Nuts	Yummy	Kind
Hot Cocoa	Honey	Farmers	Fair
Coffee	Cinnamon	Community	World
Tea	Coconut	Fair Trade

Some foods we love come from far away and it's not easy to know if the farmer who grew the food was paid fairly for their work. When you see the fair trade symbol on packages or signs at the co-op, you know that the farmer got a fair deal. Fair trade farmers also work together to improve their communities.

Fair Trade

Did you know that a cluster of bananas is called a "hand," and a single banana is called a "finger?" The average person in the United States eats about 66 banana "fingers" per year!

Some foods we love come from far away and it's not easy to know if the farmer who grew the food was paid fairly for their work. When you see the fair trade symbol on packages or signs at the co-op, you know that the farmer got a fair deal. Fair trade farmers also work together to improve their communities.